A Wilderness Oasis

*The Eagle Cap Wilderness
Oregon, USA*

It was just supposed to have been a simple four day back country trip into the wilds of Eastern Oregon and the famous Eagle Cap Wilderness. At least that's what we thought.

Only three weeks prior I had changed out the inner liners in my (absolutely fantastic) mountaineering boots as the old ones had worn out. A couple minor blisters from a day hiking in the Desolation Wilderness and I was good to go, or so I thought.

We were fifteen miles back and had just come up three miles of near vertical trail – fully loaded when the 'healed' blisters from the Desolation returned. And let me tell you - they had been small before but these had somehow turned into super caldera volcanic size blisters with lava and everything. Enter stage left & right....the duck tape.

So there I was tromping around the muck & mud of the lily pond in my bare feet coated with Deet, to keep the horseflies, mosquitoes, gnats, black flies and the no-see'ems off. It took a bit to find just the right angle, as often it can in the wilderness while creating refreshingly new compositions, but I think I got it.

See Ya On the Trail!

Artist Series / Large Artist Series

We offer Rodney's favorite frame choice, lovingly called the Artist Series, as a signature framing style. The framing is created exclusively for Rodney and cannot be purchased anywhere else. This lovely frame option is made from sustainable wood and provides a simple "Earthy, with Class" style that can hang on any wall with elegance. It's "organic chic," if you will.

♥ Our solid all wood frames are made using wood from active reforestation programs. That means that for every tree they cut down, they plant more in its place. We should be able to use this sustainably harvested wood for generations to come. They grow their trees like we grow Fir in the Northwest, continually planting, harvesting and replanting. Not unlike a cornfield in Iowa - but it takes a little longer to grow.

After all, as Rodney puts it, "Destroying the planet isn't very high on my to-do list!"

- * Artist Series frames come in two sizes, large and standard. Large frames have a thicker border, but are otherwise identical.
- * Artist Series can use Nature View Glass, as an option. This is an anti-reflection, UV protect glass that is higher quality than any museum glass available.

Koa

This is one of those absolutely stunning frames. LeeAnna & Rodney were walking through a framing show a few years ago, and this frame stopped them dead in their tracks.

LeeAnna recalls Rodney saying, "I don't care how much it costs; the rest of the world has to see this, it's amazing!"

As Hawaii's most esteemed natural resource, Koa is a symbol of Health, Wisdom and Well Being. In the past, this warm, glowing wood was reserved exclusively for royalty, but now it's available to everyone, making us all "royals."

Yes, it's spendy, we admit it – but it's definitely worth it.

* Koa framing can be used on both Artist Series and Della Terra framing styles.

Della Terra

We often get asked where we come up with some of these names. In this case it was easy. Della Terra is Italian for "From the Earth." What more do we need to say? It's the perfect description for this wonderful style. Each piece is hand fitted with a very high end tightly woven fabric wrap, in either black or white. Rodney has personally picked out several frame options that work phenomenally well with this style: Walnut, Charcoal and Cherry. Each is hand crafted in and imported from Italy, and are sourced from sustainable forestry programs. All you have to do is pick which frame and linen works best for you - because Rodney already knows that they will look great together!

* Since Della Terra frames are made from sustainable forests, the trees are younger and therefore smaller. These smaller strips of veneer are applied to the frames, giving it the look of varied grain and stains - enhancing the beauty of the artwork it surrounds. Keep in mind if you see lines in the veneer, this is a natural characteristic of the wood due to the use of smaller, sustainably grown trees. These lines are not flaws. They are normal features of the materials and processes used in these high quality frames.

40x50 - Large Charcoal with White Linen

* The smaller Della Terra frames have the following production restrictions and cannot be made in these size/frame choices: Small Walnut - 40x50, 50x62, 25x66, 31x83, 42x70, 45x120.

* Della Terra frames come in small and large sizes. These sizes represent the thickness of the border of the frame, and are otherwise identical. Cherry is available small and large, while Charcoal is only available large.

Loose

When it comes to art, it's personal. We realize that, of course. That's why we offer Rodney's beautiful images in a raw form: the photograph by itself.

The image comes to you packaged in a sealed shipping packet. We recommend that you open it in the presence of your framer to ensure its perfection – it's good to know that you left it with the framer in perfect condition. There's also a note to the framer with an open invitation to call the studio to discuss any issues or concerns they might have regarding how to properly handle your pristine Fine Art photograph. These photographs are very delicate, and it's easy for someone without experience working with them to damage them.

In fact, you'll never be able to get one of these images framed by someone else as well as we can frame it. So, even though we offer this option, we really try to dissuade you from choosing it and work to convince you to get your photograph framed by us, because we've been doing it a long time. After all, Rodney wants his artwork to be presented perfectly. In the long run, if you see a framing style you like with us, you'll never be able to get it done elsewhere for less, or with quality as high. No one can frame these images better than we can.

Matted

We offer only one type of matting for our Fine Art Photographs: Crescent museum board, in a combination of 8 ply, double 8 ply and/or 4 ply. This cotton museum board was designed specifically for the Metropolitan Museum of Art in the late 1920s, and now is used in almost all museums and libraries worldwide. All of our museum boards are 100-percent cotton. This ensures an entirely acid-free and PH balanced environment for your Fine Art Photograph, allowing for year after year of carefree enjoyment. The museum board is sized to your image perfectly and features a traditional beveled cut. You can choose between two classics: black or white. Both look fantastic.

4 ply over 8 ply matte

You can choose between two classic colors: black or white. Both look fantastic.

* Depending on the size of the image being presented, the museum board we use comes either single or double matted. For image sizes 20x24 a combination of 4 ply on top with 8 ply beneath is used; for 30x40 two layers of 8 ply museum board are used.

About Rodney Lough Jr.

Rodney has been traveling to the ends of the earth and weathered all types of climate, in a quest to find nature's most exquisite terrains to photograph. Equipped with his Dodge 4x4 turbo biodiesel truck, Lance camper, 26' Custom Jet Boat, camera and tripod – Rodney is determined to obtain that perfect image of Mother Nature at her best. From the sweltering dry deserts of the American Southwest, to the rainforests in the Pacific Northwest, from waist-deep snow fields of the great Alaska wilderness, to the heat in Death Valley, Rodney has survived everything the earth has thrown at him. He's even survived a fall off a 30 foot cliff!

Renowned for the vibrant colors and rich textures of his wilderness landscape photography, Rodney is a purist who captures what nature creates, using no color filters or darkroom deception. "The world today is a remarkable place full of beauty and splendor," Rodney exclaims. "To witness the simple grandeur of creation, the miracle of nature, is perhaps all that we need. The peace received while viewing a leaf turned color at the height of fall is immense and divine."

"Rodney Lough Jr. makes me want to pick up a camera and start. They make you stop and consider visiting the places he shot."

– Andrew W.

Background of a Master

Rodney knows the outdoors like few do. He's been hiking and camping the wild places of America since he was just a small boy on his father's back. Born in Jacksonville, Florida Rodney is completely self-taught. Though his talents were recognized early on when he received his first camera at the age of twelve, it wasn't until later that he pursued photography as a full time career.

Rodney's path first led him to Brigham Young University where he studied mathematics and statistics, eventually earning a Masters degree in the field. With a steady job in the corporate world, he continued hiking, camping, and shooting wilderness photography with his wife and their four children in his spare time. Then one day when he was traveling in Colorado, a stunning mountain view inspired a profound moment of clarity that made him realize his true calling was right in front of him. From that moment on, Rodney's love of adventure and photography took hold of his destiny and dramatically changed both his life and career.

Shortly after, he resigned from his corporate position and set out on a new career path as professional landscape photographer and entrepreneur. He began by selling his work at art fairs and soon opened his first gallery in Sausalito. Just a few short years later he opened three more galleries and a production studio near his home in Portland, Oregon.

His most recent and significant achievement has been earning a Masters of Photography degree while simultaneously opening the world's largest photography gallery! Throughout his extraordinarily successful career, Rodney has earned numerous awards in addition to his Masters of Photography degree from the Professional Photographers of America.
